How MobileTrack Lite works...

MobileTrack Lite is a smartphone tracking app that regularly transmits location data from the handset to Crystal Ball's web-based remote workforce management system. This data is then displayed on the system's real-time mapping to show management where employees are currently located.

Compatible with Android and Blackberry* smartphones, MobileTrack Lite also comes with elementary reporting functionality and automated email alerts - allowing management to understand and measure the productivity of mobile workforces.

MobileTrack Lite is an ideal solution for companies who employ field-based staff working door-to-door, or at multiple locations during the day.
